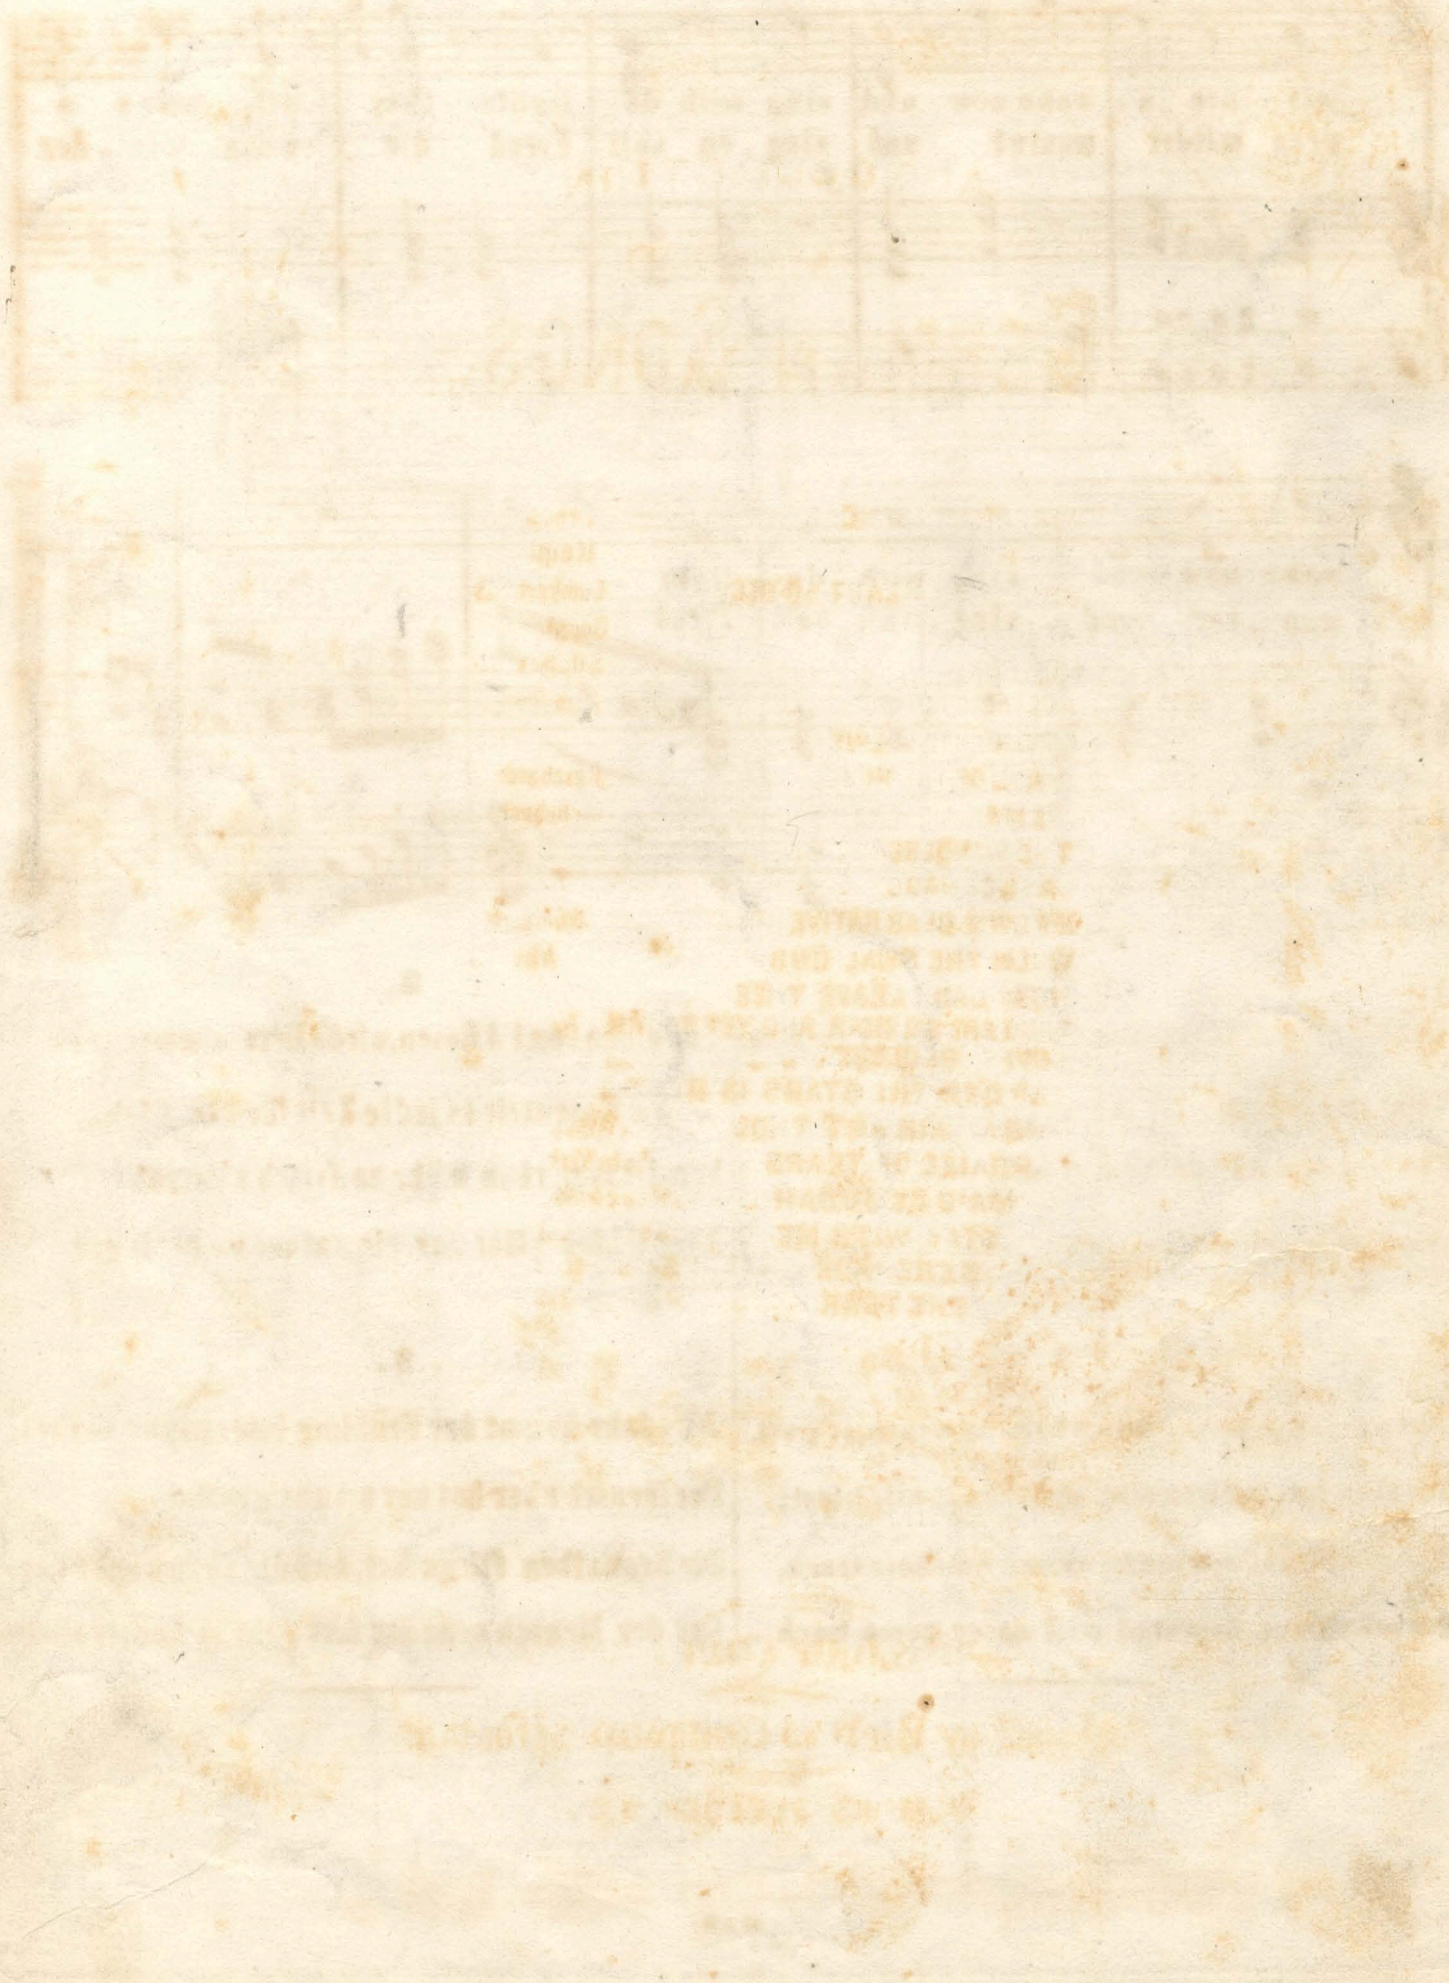
Let bloom but the roses, the heart sighs no more
The time of the rose is that love ever bore
The roses will bloom so fresh every year
But love blooms but once and then it is sere.

3.

The spring yearly comes when the winter is past,
But man has but one may and then it will blast;
The swallows depart and return on their track,
But man, once departed, will never come back.

2.

Und blühn amal d'Rosen, wird's Herz nimmer trüb,
Den d'Rosenzeit is ja die Zeit für die Lieb.
Nur d'Rosen thun blühn so frisch alle jahr
Aber d'Lieb blüht nur einmal und nacher is gar.

3.


Jed's Jahr kommt der Frühling is der winter vorbei,
Der Mensch aber hat nur an anzigen Mai.
Die Schwalben fliegn fort, doch die ziehn wieder her
Nur der Mensch wenn der fort geht so kömt er nit mehr.
